

Digital Signage Summit Europe speaker line-up

Digital Signage Summit Europe (DSS Europe) returns to Munich on 6-7 July with its most impressive speaker line-up to date. Delegates will hear from over 60 industry influencers, including top level C-suite business leaders, concept and content 'rock stars', and disruptors who are shaking up the future of digital signage.

Shaping up to be its most visionary conference yet, DSS Europe has secured critical thinkers from across EMEA to talk big picture concepts and innovation, while addressing four hot topics:

- Digital signage business critical: showcasing why digital signage is now critical to business success
- Green signage: how to achieve sustainability in digital signage
- Industry developments: the latest changes in the market
- Concepts and content: how to create experiences in the real world and the Metaverse

Experience a programme of world-class keynotes, panels, and fireside chats as well as excellent networking, including the opportunity to meet with our 'captains of industry'.

Discover the latest projects and Digital Signage strategies from global companies and rising challengers from brands including Audi, Porsche, Hugo Boss, Stratacache, Google, Intel, Immaculix, Admira, Siemens, Sharp NEC Display Solutions, Telelogos, Sage+Archer, dan pearlman Group and more...

Join industry leaders as they examine the current state and future of Digital Signage in key markets, including DACH, Nordics, UK and Middle East regions. A series of high-level panel discussions will explore this year's theme 'Digital Signage Business Critical', look into the new role of IT integrators and IT departments, examine business models for a better approach to the future of digital signage, and discuss sustainability, green signage, and DooH and Mobility.
