

Danny Clarke joins IAG

With over 25 years of Pro Audio business experience, Danny is a familiar and respected face in the industry and brings a wealth of experience to IAG and the group's portfolio of professional brands. Danny will be working closely with Nick Williams, Global Sales Director, to support current Wharfedale Pro business partners and to develop new market opportunities. "What a great time to join this dynamic team!" says Clarke. "With so many new products shipping this quarter and with a future roadmap that is sure to answer customer needs, I'm eager to engage with our Wharfedale Pro business partners as soon as possible! "
